

I decided to create this illustration as the creative portion of my project. I drew what often represents a typical school with colors inside the door and colorful illustrations blossoming from the school. To me this represents the possibilities that come from quality school systems and programs. I also think this represents the growth and opportunities you can receive from good school programs.